

Ferenc Sandor Working As A Printer

This is me in the printing house. I took my finals at secondary school in 1933. Not long before my exam I was walking home ? walking, because we did not normally take the tram: tickets were expensive. I went past a newspaper stand and there I saw the news on Hitler's takeover. After my finals I wanted to go to university but I ended up at a printing house. That's how I became a printer. I did lithography: paintings, posters, color prints. That lasted until 1978, when I retired.
